

Place: Caen, France

Period: Oct 2016 to Jul 2017

Deadline for application: 15/12/2015

The hosting organisation provides a free, confidential information service to young people on a wide range of subjects (careers, rights, leisure...). The European volunteer will be part of the Europe Direct Unit in charge of European and international issues in the organisation: information about the European Union, its specific working, its policies, with a priority given to the Erasmus+ programme and international mobility opportunities for young people.

ROLE OF THE VOLUNTEER:

- Dissemination of the Europe Direct pedagogical resources
Creation of "home-made" pedagogical materials
- Public events (festivals, fairs)
- School visits (management of activities with pupils, or participation as a concrete example for European mobility describing to young people his/her mobility experience)
- Communication: website moderation, creation of communication tools
- Events organization
- Writing tasks (depending on linguistic progress): radio programme, articles and interviews for the website

A driving license would be an advantage since you might need to travel through the region

The association is located in the city Centre of Caen, the regional capital of lower-Normandy (FRANCE), which guarantees an easy access to all shops, public services and transport. No food is directly provided by the organization, but the volunteer will receive monthly a financial help.

The volunteer will stay in a student dormitory so that he/she can meet other young people on site. The accommodation will be located in Caen, the volunteer will be able to use the public transport and to enjoy the proximity of all services. A bus pass for the whole volunteering period will be provided.
